RIVER GOING DOWN

Will Be Well Within Its Banks in a Few Days—Business Resuming

During the past twenty-four hours the recession of the river has been gradual, the gage this morning marking 57.8 feet.

Another day and night and it will have vacated Front street entirely, leaving an immense quantity of yellow mud, however, as a reminder of its unwelcome presence.

Already the work of cleaning up and rehabilitating has begun with a number of residents who were discommoded and driven out by inundation of their homes; but in a few days all will have returned and the street will have resumed its wonted appearance and the distress, discomfort and anxiety endured during the flood time will have become an incident of the past.

The Cotton Mills resumed operations this morning, Hal's Eagle Plow Works and other industries that closed down in consequence of invasion by water will start up and a general resumption of business activity will restore things to a normal condition.

The roadbed of the C. and O. has been greatly damaged and six work trains were busily engaged yesterday in restoring it to its former usefulness. The greatest danger is yet to come. When the river is well within its banks and storm waves lash the embankment, then the danger arises from undermining and wash-outs.

A passenger train was sent out from here last evening for upriver points and it is assumed that regular trains will be run from Cincinnati this evening.

It will require several days to form a correct estimate of the damage sustained by property owners and others here, but in comparison with other places Maysville has been fortunate and escapes lightly.

The prompt action taken by the City Council, supplemented with generous contributions by our noble-hearted citizens, in giving money to be used in providing for the necessities and wants of flood sufferers, speaks well for both as a city and as a community.

The Committee in charge of the relief fund is well organized and there is system in all their transactions. While it is the purpose and desire of those in control of affairs to assist every flood sufferer, and possibly other real worthy needy, the unworthy will be given the cold shoulder in short order.

That part of the work intrusted to the ladies at the three supply depots is being properly looked after, and none are turned away empty-handed who are in the least bit deserving of charity as flood sufferers.

There are those whose pride and modesty will not permit of their asking for alms in a public place, yet they are in direct need of the actual necessities of life. It would not be amiss to hunt out and give that class thought and consideration.

For the convenience of the ladies who will have charge of the distribution, the Relief Committee has designated Washington Opera-house as the only depot where contributions of clothing, bed clothing and other supplies will be received.

The house will be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., for the reception of any articles that may be sent there.

The distribution will be made only on orders signed by the Chairman and Secretary of the Relief Committee, and distribution will be made only between the hours of 10 and 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

C. AND O. RESUMES TODAY.

President Stevens of the C. and O., accompanied by other officials of the road, was in Maysville all yesterday and is bending every effort for the resumption of traffic.

The worst washouts by the flood are at Stony Point, four miles West of Dover, the fill at the East end of Dover and at Utopia, a few miles West of Augusta.

There are five work trains at Dover with several hundred hands now hastily repairing the embankments, and President Stevens came on from Richmond to personally look after affairs; two work trains at Utopia, and between Ashland and Cincinnati there are 20 work trains with over 1,000 men working like beavers.

President Stevens says passenger traffic from Maysville East will be resumed this Wednesday morning, and the first train, No. 6, is scheduled to leave the Maysville depot at 9:30 for Ashland and other points.

If possible, an accommodation train will come out of the C. and O.'s Fourth Street Cincinnati Station this afternoon for Maysville.

There is a tremendous congestion of mail matter and freight awaiting shipment and the loss to the C. and O. is now reaching $50,000 a day.

All mails must arrive and depart via the L. and N.

Azurea Perfumery at Sallie Wood's.

With a big sack of provisions and an old grip, Lawson Hall, an aged farmer of Nicholas county, arrived in Cincinnati Sunday in search of his daughter and her family, who were driven from their home by the flood. Hall, who is 84 years old, received a letter from his daughter, Mrs. Atkins, in which she told of the privations she and the children were suffering on account of the flood, so the old man went to the city prepared to help them. He arrived at the Eighth Street Depot, where his daughter was to meet him. He could not find her, and after waiting around the depot for several hours he was found by a patrolman and given lodging for the night.

CHEER up. Just think how bad NOAH felt in the greatest washout on record. Besides, get busy and prepare for the next big spectacular performance of the Ohio.

WHO can estimate the gross damage from the present flood in the Ohio from Pittsburgh to Cairo? One able newspaperman declared to us that the loss to the C. and O. Railway alone will reach a million dollars. Twenty-five million dollars won't cover the entire financial loss along the thousand miles of double shore line of the greatest river on earth.

IT seems rather paradoxical for a reported ill or dead woman to spill tons of printer's ink in her frantic endeavor to make the public and the press believe she is alive and in good health. Yet such is the condition of Mrs. MARY BAKER EDDY, the High Priestess and accredited "whole cheese" of the Christian Science cult. If the irrepressible, if not infallible, MARY BAKER is still alive and humbugging the people, what's the dif? Christian Science is O. K. as an aesthetic, dietetic and a mental-athletic fad. As to its religious and God-like function there is nothing to it but hot air.

MAJOR HERSEY, formerly weather forecaster at Louisville, is now telling the newspapers how he intends to seek the North Pole. He declares that it will require but 36 hours to reach that much sought goal. The Maje has a big contract on his hands and if he delivers the merchandise he will make steen hundred per on the stage as a freak who made good.

TESTIMONIALS

What Some of the Most Prominent Women and Men in This Vicinity Have to Say of The Celebrated Home Comfort Wrought Iron Cooking Ranges.

Wrought Iron Range Co., St. Louis, Mo.

I have used a Home Comfort Range for the past twelve years and found it to be the most durable stove made. It does not consume one-half the fuel of an ordinary cast stove. Can say I would not take the price I paid for it and do without it.

Several hardware men tried to convince us that we could buy the same range for one-half the money, which we found untrue, and I don't think anyone could make a mistake in purchasing a Home Comfort Range. Very truly yours,
Mr. and Mrs. RUFUS K. ROBINSON,
Maysville, Ky.

Wrought Iron Range Co., St. Louis, Mo.

I have used a Home Comfort Range for the past twenty-four years and have only had repairs once during this time. It is as good as new and does its work nicely. Don't think anyone could make a mistake in buying a Home Comfort Range. Very truly yours,
GEORGE T. WILSON,
Sand Hill, Lewis county, Ky.

Wrought Iron Range Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Gentlemen—We have been using one of your ranges for about twenty years and during that period it has been in constant use.

My mother used the range about fourteen years of this time and I have used it for about seven years. It is in good order now and cooks as well as it did when new. The water tank is also a great feature.

We are well pleased with your range and recommend it to the public. Very respectfully,
Dr. L. H. LONG,
Northfork, Ky.

This is to certify that I have been using a Home Comfort Range for the last twelve years. In that time my house was burned down and the range fell into the cellar and layed there for twenty-four hours redhot. The range is in use today as good as new. The reservoir and brackets it rests on were the only things that warped, and the company replaced them free of charge.
ELISHA MORAN,

I have used the Home Comfort Range for the last ten or twelve years and am well pleased with it. This range is still in good order.

THANKFUL

To my many friends and the public generally who have in the past extended to me such a liberal share of their patronage, which has helped so materially in making my business career in Maysville such a success: I want to assure all that I fully appreciate what they have done for me, and promise that I shall, by renewed efforts, endeavor to retain the confidence of the public by pursuing the same course of fair dealing and polite attention in the future as in the past and selling the very best goods at the most reasonable prices.
My stock is now the largest and most varied it has ever been my pleasure to offer to the public, consisting of every article in the Staple and Fancy Grocery line. These goods are fresh and new and of the very best quality. My last shipment of New Crop Open Kettle Molasses is now in and they are strictly fancy, and in spite of the fact that prices on these goods have materially advanced I am still selling them at the very low price of 50c per gallon. My stock of CANNED GOODS is unusually large and the quality of the very best.
The demand for PERFECTION FLOUR is rapidly growing because it is beyond a doubt the very best flour sold in Maysville or that can be made. It has no superior anywhere.
The run on my fine Blended Coffee has been enormous and is constantly increasing. I am still selling these fine goods at 15c, 20c and 25c per pound, and if you want a strictly fancy high grade Mocha and Java, the finest that can be produced, don't fail to call for the famous "Barrington Hall" steel cut, sold only in one-pound airtight tins at 35c per pound. A fresh supply of fall catch black-cured just in. If you want something extra try one of my fancy Blaster Nests, heads and tails off.
A big invoice of very fine Premium Chinaware just in, a sample of which may be seen in my warehouse window. These goods I give to my CASH customers in redeeming tickets given out with their cash purchases. Until further notice DOUBLE TICKETS will be given with each cash purchase on SATURDAYS. By taking advantage of this proposition the purchaser will very soon accumulate enough tickets to secure a fine set of china FREE OF COST.
I buy strictly fancy Table Butter, Fresh Eggs and Country Produce generally, for which I pay cash or trade at lowest cash prices. I want every one to come and see me; always welcome. If you don't want to buy it will be a pleasure for me to show you the nicest, the cleanest and the best kept store in Northeastern Kentucky. Thanking all again, I am most sincerely,

A TRANSACTION IN FISH.

Market Man Had All Kinds, and Bride Made Her Choice.

A New England bride with slight experience in the markets of Manhattan entered an Eighth avenue market last Friday morning. "What kind of fish have you?" she asked.

"Some nice German carp, ma'am. No? Well, then, some Gloucester halibut."

"From Gloucester?" asked the bride.

"Well, what they sell in Gloucester," replied the man of the seafood emporium.

"Oh, what are those?"

"Green smelts from Rhode Island, ma'am. And we have lobsters from Nova Scotia, yellow perch from up state, carp from Muddy Ponds, near St. Louis, cod from the Chelera Banks, swordfish, blackfish or tautog caught in the sound."

Stopping to catch his breath and get the customer's measure, he went on:

"Sheepshead from Peconic bay and also cold storage; shad, strung clams from Long Island, hard shell clams, haddock from Boston," here she hesitated, "mackerel from St. John's, Newfoundland; Black Island bloters, the very best boat fish from Cape Cod, Gloucester and imported smoked finnan haddie, best New England domestic haddock, native eels from Long Island, Cape Cod and Long Island oysters; the very finest smoked and salt herring and mackerel."

"Well—" and the bride looked dubious. Then, as though an inspiration had come to her, she said: "Give me about ten cents' worth of your best salt cod, the very freshest you have."

PLUM PUDDING ALL RIGHT.

The Lancet Says It is a Good Meal in Itself and is Justly Blamed.

The London Lancet, which so often points out the terrible and unsuspected dangers to health encountered in every day life, publishes with reasonable optimism a hearty defense of the Christmas pudding.

"It is accused of indigestibility," says the Lancet, "but a synchical consideration of all the events would indicating the reverse to be the case. For an individual enjoying average health the ingredients of plum pudding should offer no physiological stumbling block."

The paper then points out that the pudding is generally eaten after an extra large, hearty meal and unjustly gets blamed for what is really the result of overeating.

"The Christmas pudding," says the Lancet, "is a meal for a hungry man, for it is hardly possible to conceive a more complete food. Eggs supply plenty of protein, a sufficiency of fat and bread crumbs, fruit and sugars a generous proportion of carbohydrates. Moreover, most of these carry the further necessities of human diet, namely, mineral salts."

Could Still "Swallow."

"Deacon" Snow, as he was familiarly called, was a quaint character well known in Provincetown, Mass., where he recently died, more than 80 years of age. He was a horse jockey by profession, and also kept the principal livery stable in town. On one occasion he was driving a party of "city folks" over to Truro.

They had provided themselves with a basket of fruit, as well as with a bottle of liquid refreshment, which was passed from hand to hand among themselves. Finally one of the party said: "Deacon, won't you have a peach?"

"Guess not," he drawled, turning half around, "you see my teeth ain't what they used to be, but"—and here he eyed the bottle longingly—"my swaller is just as good's ever 'twas."

The Wrong "Haul."

Here is an octopus adventure. The crew of the Perle, a fishing boat hailing from Cancale, France, between St. Malo and Mont St. Michel, were about to pull in a big net when they encountered a sudden resistance. The net was simply crammed, not, however, with good mackerel, but with vast numbers of octopuses, each provided with tentacles more than six feet in length. The slimy wretches swarmed up one side of the craft, giving the fishers a frightful experience. The men had at last to cut the rope of the net, sacrificing it altogether, and then to free the side of the boat from the octopus which stuck to it.

A few years ago a party of seafaring men were standing near Tucker's wharf, in Marblehead, Mass., looking admiringly at a new schooner that had that morning entered the harbor. Her tall masts were as smooth as glass, and her rigging and spotless deck looked inviting.

A young sailor named Ben Longsby was in the group, and had been looking with envious eyes at the trim craft. Presently up strolled old Silas Ormsby, the town's oracle and sheriff, and took a seat on a water cask.

Ben turned around to old Silas and said: "Now see here, Silas, what is the reason, I'd like to know, they all speak of a ship as she?"

Silas cocked his eye, rubbed his chin, and casting a quick glance at the trim vessel, replied: "I suspect, Ben, it's because it costs so much to rig her."

One Playmate for Him.

"Mamma, can't I go up to the next block and play with the Jones boys?" asked Henry, a boy of six, who was being brought up very carefully.

"No, indeed!" answered his mother. "They are very bad boys."

"Then can't I go over to see Mrs. Smith's little girls?"

"No, Henry; I'm afraid to let you go."

The little fellow left the room; later he stuck his head inside with, "Say, mamma, I'm going over next door an' play with the dog."—Woman's Home Companion.

Musicians Black-Ball Strauss.

Like Wagner, Humperdinck and Joachim before him, Richard Strauss, composer of "Salome," and many other noted works, has been rejected as a member of the senate of the Berlin Academy of Arts, an institution corresponding to the French academy. All the sculptors, painters and other artists voted in his favor. The musicians alone black-balled him.

Had to Do It.

"Mrs. Wattleton has won a prize of $250 for a magazine article on how to live comfortably on $1,000 a year."

"Yes; she was telling me a few days ago that she just had to do something to earn a little extra money, as it had become impossible for her and her husband to get along on his $75 a week."

Mrs. E. H. Bryant is ill at her home in East Second street.

Voice of the People

To the Editor of the Daily Ledger—Dear Sir: I am delighted that you are inaugurating your coming among us by starting a crusade on the subject of a hospital.

Maysville can make no boast of being a progressive, up-to-date town 'til something is done in this line.

Where in our state, or any other, will you find a town the size of Maysville without a well equipped hospital, or at least some movement on foot in that direction?

I am an old resident in the town and so far as I know we have within our borders both one trained nurse; no osteopaths, no masseuse and no place where emergency cases can be treated; but on the contrary thousands of dollars pouring into the hospitals and sanitariums and pockets of specialists in our neighboring cities all for lack of facilities at home. Keep up the good work. Some day you will be rewarded.

A CITIZEN, Maysville, Ky.

BAD BLOOD

"I had trouble with my bowels which made my blood impure. My face was covered with pimples which no external remedy could remove. I tried your Cascarets and great was my joy when the pimples disappeared after a month's steady use. I have recommended them to all my friends and quite a few have found relief."

The Buying Season is Almost Here and the buying public is most cordially invited to call and inspect our line of harness. Our motto is "Make 'em Better." We have had our cutter go direct to the tannery, and, with our Mr. Brown, there inspect and buy just such leather as he thought the best. Again, when cutting the sides here in the work shop, he rejects all imperfect stock, putting in the harness the very best of leather only. You are the ones to profit by this care. It is in order to make you the most satisfied class of customers in the United States that we take such precaution. Do you mean to profit by it? If you do, come in and let us show you our line and let us figure with you, Do It Now. Yours for a Prosperous 1907,

A farmer who has tried the experiment says: "If you will sprinkle sulphur on the barn floor and through your corn as you gather there will not be a rat or mouse bother it. I have done this for several years and have never been bothered with rats or mice. In stacking hay or oats sprinkle a little on the ground and on each load, and my word for it, rats or mice can't stay there. A pound of sulphur will be sufficient to preserve a large bin of corn and is good for stock and will not hurt the corn for bread."

Dispute as to Whether Animals Think Settled for All Time.

"Do animals think?" was the subject under discussion by the Dewbury Debating club. Bob Rogers, the dog fancier, said they did.

"I have a dog," he declared, "which acted like a hero once when my house caught fire. My wife and I snatched up as many of the children as we could carry, and flew into the street. Neither of us had time to count them till we got outside, and then, alas! we found there was one missing."

"Before we had time to return to the blazing house we saw Rover peering into the faces of all the rescued children, and then, having discovered that there was one short, he sprang through the flames and reappeared, in less than a minute, with a blanketed bundle, which proved to be our child."

"Marvelous!" exclaimed the listeners.

"Wait a second, my impatient friends," proceeded Rogers. "That dog hadn't finished. In two seconds he was back in the furnace again. We felt sure the noble animal would be cremated, and I remember feeling disappointed that he hadn't been able to count the children correctly, after all, for there was none left in the house to save. However, when he returned he had between his teeth, all safe and sound—what do you think?"

"Give it up!" shouted everybody.

Rogers leaped forward and whispered:

"The fire insurance policy—wrapped in a wet towel!"

KNEW WHAT MONKS WERE.

But Unfortunately Henry's Knowledge Embarrassed His Teacher.

At one time, while teaching school in Goshen, I had been telling the children all about the monks of St. Bernard, and flattered myself that I had made quite an impression, says a writer in the Boston Herald. The next day, the school visitor being present, I took the opportunity of showing the children off, and attempted to get them to tell the story of the previous day, but to my horror they displayed the profoundest ignorance of the subject.

I tried vainly to give them hints by judicious questioning, but it was not until in desperation I said: "It was about monks, you know. I'm sure you all know what monks are," that I saw a flash of intelligence on one face, while one small arm waved frantically.

"Well, Henry, you tell us what monks are," I said.

"Them little things that runs along stone walls," was the prompt reply.

At Dover the flood loss is comparatively small. Front street below the C. and O. tracks was the only part of the town reached by water and only half a dozen families had to move. Dover's magnificent bottom of 400 acres is high and dry above even the great flood of 1884.

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

MISS MARGARET TIERNEY

MRS. CHAS. A. ROCKWOOD

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case?

Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has cured more cases of feminine ills than any other one remedy. Such letters as the following are constantly being received by Mrs. Pinkham to prove our claims.

Mrs. C. A. Rockwood, teacher of Parliamentary Law, of 58 Free St., Fredonia, N. Y., writes:

"For years I suffered with female trouble. It was decided that an operation was necessary, and although I submitted to a serious operation my sufferings continued, until Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it proved a marvelous remedy, so quickly did it restore my health. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."

Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 329 W. 25th Street, New York, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"When only eighteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was necessary to permit of my womanly organs performing their natural functions. My mother objected and being urged by a relative to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did so. I soon improved in health, the proper conditions were established and I am well and strong, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

No other remedy has such unqualified endorsement as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other remedy in the world has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited promptly to communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. F. symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and best of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that in case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

FOXPORT.

C. D. Doyle is improving his house by adding a new kitchen.

Still the wedding bells are pealing. Wonder who'll be the next.

Walter Carpenter and little daughter, Reida joined his wife and baby, who are visiting his parents here.

Bert Bowman has had a new mail box erected at his home, which he says beats going through the mud to the Postoffice all hollow.

Just watch Mapledale grow! We learn there is to be a handsome new dwelling house erected on Park Lake avenue in the near future.

It was with a sad heart we noted the change in our Editors, although we are glad to welcome Mr. Curran into our circles; still we are sorry to part with Mr. Davis, who has won our highest admiration through the columns of our dear old Ledger. Although ye scribe has never met Mr. Davis and has only been a reader of this paper five years, still through THE LEDGER we have long felt as though Mr. Davis was a personal friend of ours and have always looked forward each day to receiving the paper to read his high and noble views in the editorials. Adieu, Mr. Davis, though let us hear from you often through the columns of our paper. Here's our hand to our new Editor and may you fill the place you have taken as well as the one just retired, and may success ever be thine in our wish.

MOUNT GILEAD.

We are wondering if any body remembers a January as warm and wet as we are now witnessing.

Mrs. Amanda Calvert is now at her aunt's, Mrs. H. C. Stope, for a several days visit before starting with her two youngest daughters to her intended future home among her kindred in Coffee county, Kan.

The tobacco growers are highly elated over the prospects of getting a better price for their labor, brought about by the efforts of the American Society of Equity, whose aim to control the price of tobacco is now claimed to be a success.

While taking down tobacco Mr. H. Clay Stone fell from near the top of his barn, and after going some distance head foremost caught on a pole, and the force of the fall bruised his side to such an extent it was feared for several days to be dangerous, but, he is somewhat better now.

Mr. John Hopper has sold his tobacco at 10 cents; Mr. John Bailey at 10½ cents and Mr. Alex. Bramel at 12 cents to speculators who are pooling it. That leaves one little crop out of the pool with an offer of 8 cents. Our Union was the last organized, but what one of the seventeen can beat it in percentage?

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. A FATAL MISTAKE.

It's a fatal mistake to neglect backache. Backache is the first symptom of kidney illness. Serious complications follow.

Don't delay until too late. Doan's Kidney Pills cure them promptly.

Until it becomes diabetes—Bright's disease. Read what a Maysville citizen says:

James D. Tolle, clerk at Wood Bros., meat market, and living at 117-Short street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I was troubled a great deal for some time with constant heavy pain in the small of my back and over the kidneys. At times it was so bad that I could not stoop to sit down or get up without much difficulty. The action of the kidneys was noticeably weakened and passages of the secretions were too frequent. There was also a burning sensation at times. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I began using them and finding great benefit continued their use until I had taken one or two boxes more and was thoroughly cured of all my troubles. I have never had the least bit of suffering from my back or kidneys since. I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills and feel justified in strongly recommending them to others."
